"Established since 1948 ... we are experts in the source and supply of Vinyl, Plastic and Rubber"

Glen Ryan - National Manager Australia & New Zealand

Company Profile

NuPlastex is a division of Shaw of Australia who are experts when it comes to sourcing and supplying vinyl, plastic & rubber. In order to offer our customers an edge in their chosen market, we source world class competitively priced products from countries including Germany, USA, France, Taiwan, Singapore and China.

In this rapidly growing division we currently have agents and staff in all states and territories in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, all highly trained to better satisfy all levels of sales and offering a level of customer service and product knowledge that is second to none.

Shaw of Australia has been driven by passion since 1948; we believe it's the shared 'passion' of the people who make up Shaw which sets us apart from our competitors. We have a strong multi-cultural team and recruit with consideration for our core values which are trustworthy, innovative, professional and dynamic. It is our company mission to build long term relationships built on trust.

Manufacturers of roller and roman fabric, Shaw currently exports to over 40 countries worldwide from our manufacturing plant in New Zealand and warehousing facility in Australia. Our fabrics are developed with constant reference to international interior trends for both domestic and commercial application. Shaw's production strategy is to produce wide width fabric with foam and flock blackout coating.

The hub of our Australian distribution, marketing, finance and administration activity is strategically located in the Sydney suburb of Marrickville, 10km from the CBD and 5km from Sydney International airport.

Marrickville is also the company's fabric innovation centre. We conduct extensive research and development utilizing an in-house laboratory and testing facility ensuring fabric performance and practicality with style and colour. This department is responsible for tracking and sampling every fabric batch produced as Shaw considers consistent quality and colour paramount.

Shaw operates with consideration for the environment at all levels of administration and manufacturing. Our manufacturing processes and equipment are designed to minimize our impact on the environment.

Terms & Conditions of Sale

Unless otherwise expressly provided in writing, the following are the terms and conditions applicable to each agreement for sale of goods and/or services entered into between Shaw of Australia Pty Ltd ("the seller") and ("the customer"):

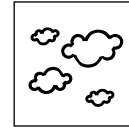

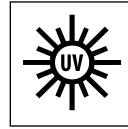

N.B. - Always refer to the NuPlastex website (www.nuplastex.com) for the most up to date and current terms and conditions of sale.

1. The customer acknowledges that, in entering into this agreement, it has not relied upon the skill or judgement of the seller's employees or agents or upon any representation, statement of warranty other than those expressly included herein, save that nothing in these conditions shall be deemed to exclude, restrict or modify any condition, warranty or liability implied by any legislation, the exclusion, restriction or modification of which condition, warranty or liability is expressly prohibited by such legislation and, save as aforesaid, all other conditions, warranties and liabilities implied by statute or otherwise are hereby expressly negated and excluded.
2. The seller shall have no liability in respect of any claim for defective goods or services unless such claim is notified in writing within 7 days of the delivery of those goods or services, in which event the liability of the seller shall not extend to any alleged consequential loss or damage and shall be restricted to the seller's choice of replacing or repairing the goods or refunding the amount paid in respect thereof, and in the case of services, to resupplying the services or paying for the resupply of such services.
3. The customer shall have no claim against the seller or any of its officers, employees or agents of any nature whatsoever arising directly or indirectly from any alleged negligent act or omission on the part of the seller or its officers, employees or agents, it being acknowledged and agreed by the customer that its relationship with the seller is contractual only and that the seller has no duty of care of any nature whatsoever towards the customer or any of its officers, employees or agents.
4. Payment for all goods and services is to be made upon delivery of same, unless the customer has been approved for credit purchases, in which event payment is to be made by the 30th day of the month following the date of invoice, failing which payment the amount due shall accrue interest at the rate of 2.5% per month until payment. The customer shall be liable to reimburse the seller the full amount of all and any fees and charges of any mercantile agents and/or solicitors engaged to recover any monies due by the customer to the seller.
5. All prices quoted are exclusive of GST and freight and subject to variation at any time in the event that costs to the seller have risen between the date the date of quotation and the date of order.
6. Any stipulated delivery times are, unless otherwise expressly stated, approximate guides only and the seller shall not be liable in respect of any loss or damage of any nature whatsoever directly or indirectly arising from any delay in delivery of the ordered goods or services. Unless otherwise expressly stated the seller shall have an absolute discretion to deliver the ordered goods in such quantities and as such times as the seller shall determine. In the event that delivery of any ordered goods is not possible by reason of any event beyond the reasonable control of the seller, then the seller shall have the right to terminate the agreement in respect of those goods, without affecting either party's respective rights and obligations with respect to the balance of any goods ordered and neither party shall have any claims or demands of whatsoever nature against the other arising from the failure to deliver the goods in respect of which the agreement has been so terminated. Should the customer refuse to accept delivery of any goods, the seller shall be entitled to claim against the customer the full amount due in respect of any such goods.
7. The risk in any goods agreed to be sold shall pass to the customer upon the seller's carrier arriving with the goods at the customer's nominated premises or upon delivery of the goods to the customer's nominated carrier, as the case may be.
8. Property in all and any goods shall not pass to the customer until all monies owed by the customer to the seller in respect of all and any goods and/or services at any time delivered and/or provided by the seller to the customer are fully paid. In the event that any monies are outstanding for more than 30 days, or in the event that at any time when there are monies outstanding, the customer being a natural person, commits an act of bankruptcy or calls a meeting of creditors, or enters into an agreement with creditors or seeks to assign his or her estate for the benefit of creditors, or, being a body corporate, administrator, receiver or liquidator appointed, provisionally or otherwise, or resolves to call a meeting of its creditors to consider any such appointments, the seller shall then have the right at any time to enter the customer's premises, or any other premises in which the seller's goods are located to retake possession of such goods (whether or not those goods were allegedly paid for) without being liable in trespass or for any damage occasioned thereby. In the event the seller exercises such right and resells the goods, any monies so received shall be applied towards the discharge of the customer's debt to the seller and in reimbursement of all expenses incurred by the seller in seeking to exercise its rights in repossession and resale and any balance shall be paid to the customer.
- Until all payments due to the seller are made by the customer, the seller shall be beneficially entitled to all monies received by the customer upon the resale of any goods delivered by the seller to the customer and the customer shall maintain for the benefit of the seller any claim the customer has against any purchaser from the customer of goods delivered to the customer by the seller. The seller may, in its absolute discretion, elect to notify in writing the customer that the property in any specified goods has passed to the customer in which event the property shall be deemed to have passed on the date of such notification. Nothing in this clause shall be deemed to preclude the seller from claiming from the customer the full amount owing in respect of ordered goods in respect of which property has not passed.
9. In the event that the customer, being a natural person commits an act of bankruptcy or calls a meeting of creditors, or enters into an arrangement with creditors, or seeks to assign his or her estate for the benefit of creditors or, being a corporate body, has an administrator, receiver or liquidator appointed, provisionally or otherwise, or calls a meeting of creditors to consider any such appointments, the seller shall have the right at its discretion to terminate any agreements for undelivered goods and/or services, and in which event neither party shall have any further rights or obligations with respect to any agreements so terminated.
10. This agreement shall be construed according to the laws in New South Wales and all any other proceedings between the parties shall be commenced in a New South Wales Court having competent jurisdiction and located in the Sydney metropolitan area.
11. In the agreement the "seller" includes any relevant body corporate (within the meaning of the Corporations Act 2001) of the seller and "customer" includes any related body corporate (within the meaning of the Corporations Act 2001) of the customer as well as any proprietary body corporate dealing with the seller and of which any directors and/or shareholders are also directors and/or shareholders of the customer.

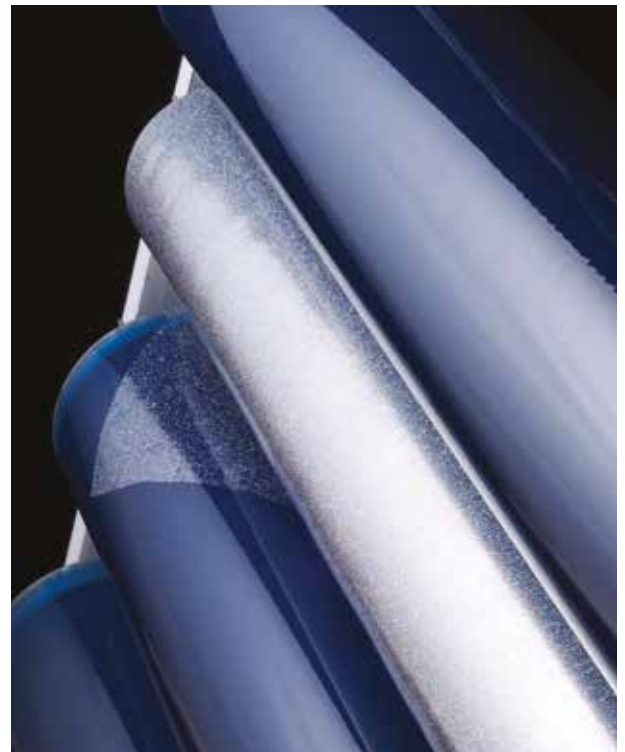

Specific Disclaimer: Crystal Clear Plastic is a multi-purpose product. If used as a table covering on timber furniture, please test a small inconspicuous section of the table prior to complete coverage, as the plasticiser in the plastic could react with some lacquers and stains used on timber furniture. We cannot be held liable for any discolouration, or visible colour change to the timber table top.

General Disclaimer: Colours shown are as close as possible to actual colours, yet will vary slightly from the original. If a colour match is critical, please contact our office for a specific sample cutting.
